

CINEDANS FEST

Amsterdam, June 26, 2019

Dear Deny,

Thank you for sending us your film to Cinedans 2018. Every year Cinedans collaborates with various foundations and festivals to present dance films all over the world, this year we have an honor to choose one of the many dance film archives that we have to be invited in World Cinema Amsterdam 2019. After selecting several film archives in our database, we decided to choose your film entitled :

"KALAP!" (Fury!)
(production year 2017)

to be included in the film festival program on 8 August 2019 at the World Cinema Open Air - Marie Heinekenplein, Amsterdam.

If you accept our invitation, we will set a screening copy of your film.

Please don't hesitate to contact us if you have any enquiries regarding this invitation. We look forward to hearing from you.

Warm regards,

Andreas Hannes

Love for Sale

41-year-old incorrigible bachelor Richard Widjaja spends most of his time either watching soccer with friends in a café or staying home alone with his turtle. Until one of his friends challenges him to bring along a date for a wedding...

Love for Sale

Can you put a price tag on love? This love drama, written and directed by Andibachtiar Yusuf, is all about this intriguing question. With nuance and enough humour, he tells a story of "bought love", but not like you would expect.

41-year-old incorrigible bachelor Richard Widjaja spends most of his time either watching soccer with friends in a café or staying home alone with his turtle. When one of his friends announces his upcoming wedding, he challenges Richard to bring along a date to the happy occasion. Not wanting to lose face, Richard starts looking for a suitable candidate, ultimately landing at the online platform Love Incorporated, which can supply him with a girlfriend, for a price of course. Thus he meets Arini Kusuma, a nice girl who even knows her soccer. The contract turns out to be valid for 45 days. Richard falls in love eventually and even starts thinking of marrying Arini.
