INTERNATIONAL VIRTUAL ART EXHIBITION

Before & After – New Norm in Art Exhibition

15 DEC
2020

Virtual Museums and exhibitions are considered an effective alternative to an actual visit, especially for people whose physical access to the site is restricted. A virtual museum is a digital representation of an artifact collection presented in a single or multi-user environment, in which visitors navigate, observe the exhibits, learn related information about them, and in some cases interact with them.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the world has changed. The change in physical activities forced people to absorb and survive in this situation. The term "new norm" has been used globally. People embrace the new norm for all activities in their everyday life. This phenomenon also affects the field of art & design. Many artists and galleries changed their strategies to exhibit artworks. One of the strategies is to exhibit the artworks in the form of virtual exhibitions.

In this exhibition entitled "Before & after", we try to bring a group of artists to exhibit their artwork virtually. All artworks will be exhibited through online platform. This program is organized by Asia International Community of Art & Design (AICAD) in collaboration with AL BILUNI Gallery, UTM Perak and Multimedia University (MMU).
